ow the drowning of Mrs. Gertrude Viger Kuehling, from a canoe in the otomac river Wednesday evening. United States Attorney Laskey, following a conference with Inspector Grant, chief of detectives, and Detectives Hughlett and Walsh today decided to present the matter to the grand jury. This will be done, it was stated, despite what verdict a coroner's jury might render at an inquest this afternoon

Howard B. Osgood and Mrs. Felice Ryan, former husband and sister of the deceased, are in this city and will be able to give testimony without being required to return later. Roy Harper Kuehling, the husband, still in custody, will listen to the testimony given at the inquest. It is stated he is in favor of a grand jury investigation.

Husband Sticks to Story. The prisoner has told but one story of the drowning. It was an accident, according to his version, and police offi-cials say they know nothing to the contrary.
The inquest will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Dr. William Browne Carr, acting coroner, at the District morgue.

The body of Mrs. Kuehling was found yesterday morning about 7:30 o'clock by Albert Renswold, who occupies a house boat on the Virginia side of the river, about 300 yards below the scene of the accident

BANGOR, Me., September 13.—Spirited voting characterized the election here today, women seeming to vie with the men in getting to the polls early. Up to the noon hour, the vote was a record-breaking one, in spite of rainy weather, and the polls presented livery scenes with large numbers of women of both parties on hand to assist and instruct women voters. Special women clerks also were on duty at each voting place.

MONTPELIER, Vt., September 13.— Contests among the four candidates for the republican nomination for gov-ernor and three for the nomination of the same party for Congress in the second district will be decided at the Vermont primaries tomorrow. The four men seeking nomination for chief executive, which usually is equivalent to election in this state, are Frank W. Agan of Ludlow, Fred H. Babbitt of Rockingham, Curtls S. Emery of Newport and James Hartness of Spring-field.

Representative Porter H. Dale is a candidate for renomination in the sec-ond district. He is opposed by Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro and John W. Gordon of Barre. Senator William P. Dillingham and Representative Frank L. Greene are unopposed for renomi-nation.

There are no contests for leading places on the democratic ticket. Fred C. Martin of Bennington will be the nominee for governor. Of the republican gubernatorial aspirants Agar has based his campaign on opposition to the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act; Babbitt has advocated what he terms a "reasonable modifi-cation" of the Volstead act; Emery has emphasized that he is a "dry" candi-date and has always favored woman suffrage; and Hartness has made his campaign chiefly on a plea for in-dustrial expansion in Vermont.
